CERTIFICATE FOR SELF EMPLOYED PEOPLE IN CHILD RELATED EMPLOYMENT

This new certificate was introduced by the NSW government on the 1st May 2009 and is a mandatory certificate for any self employed person in child related employment. This certificate will replace the police checks that APSA has done on our behalf in the past. An AFP Criminal name check will not be sufficient.

Each certificate has a number that can be verified by your students on the governments website.

- Please go to the website www.kids.nsw.gov.au the site for the NSW Commission for Children and Young People.
- Then go into the 'Working with Children' section and in green on the left you will find Certificate for Self Employed People.
- Scroll down until you come to the Application Form (P1017) and the Application Instructions.
- You will need to take your application form and your 3 forms of ID to your local police station for lodgement.
- It will cost $80 and will need to be renewed every 3 years.
